In order for the Policyholder to benefit from this service, all the following conditions must be met.

The Policyholder declares that he has regular access to the Internet and that this mode of delivery is appropriate in the context of the relationship with the Insurer.

The Policyholder expressly consents:

- › to receive the contractual correspondence exclusively electronically, at the Insurer's discretion, either by email to the personal email address that he provided, or via a personal user account set up to this effect on the Insurer's digital platform;
- › to the use, by the Insurer, of his data (in particular his personal email address and mobile telephone number*):
 - › for the creation of an individual user account for the access and the use of the Insurer's digital platform for which he declares to understand and accept the terms and conditions provided to him, which may be updated from time to time,
 - › for the purpose of electronically signing the terms and conditions of the Insurer's digital platform.
- › to connect to the Insurer's digital platform and to consult and download, whenever necessary, all documents made available by the Insurer.

The Policyholder accepts that communications received by electronic means will replace the equivalent paper communications. All documents shall be deemed to have been validly notified and delivered to the Policyholder as of the date they are sent securely by email to the Policyholder or made available by the Insurer on the Insurer's digital platform. Therefore it is the responsibility of the Policyholder to read and access, whenever necessary, any document made available securely by the Insurer.

The Policyholder is informed that:

- › He has the right to request, free of charge, a hard copy of the communications sent by electronic means.

- › He can revoke his consent to receive communication by electronic means at any time by contacting the Insurer. Such a revocation will not affect the lawfulness and validity of documents previously transmitted electronically based on consent before revocation. In this case, the Policyholder acknowledges and accepts that the means of communication with the Insurer will be in paper format to the residential address held on file by the Insurer from the date his request is acknowledged by the Insurer.
- › The Insurer reserves the right to contact the Policyholder directly at the last reported address of residence. The Insurer shall have the right, but not the obligation, to contact the Policyholder at any other address at which, in the judgment of the Insurer, information may reach the Policyholder, using for this purpose such means of communication as the Insurer deems most appropriate (e.g., telephone, fax or e-mail).
- › Where there is more than one Policyholder, it will be sufficient for the Insurer to send each communication to any one of them, it being understood that each Policyholder gives a mandate to the others.

CONSENT TO THE USE OF ELECTRONIC SIGNATURES

The Insurer makes available the use electronic signatures for completion of any future contractual documentation during the term of the Policy. This service is free of charge. Utmost Luxembourg S.A.'s electronic signature process falls within the provisions under European Regulation n°910/2014/EU on electronic identification and trusted services for electronic transactions in the European internal market (the "eIDAS" Regulation) and is qualified as an "advanced electronic signature" within the meaning of article 26 of the eIDAS Regulation. By ticking the box below, the Policyholder agrees to use electronic signatures for the completion of future contractual documentation.

Where the Policyholder has agreed to the use of electronic signatures, the Policyholder accepts that it constitutes a valid signature and that any document signed electronically gives rise to the same rights and obligations than if it was signed by hand.

The Policyholder has the right to revoke his consent on the use of electronic signatures at any time by contacting the Insurer, such revocation having no effect on any documents previously completed by means of an electronic signature. In this case, the Policyholder acknowledges and agrees that the documents, following such choice, will be signed using a handwritten signature.
