Important notes

To allow us to comply with our legal obligations and to protect you, we may need original/certified proof of address and photo ID before we can make a payment to you. The photo ID must be in-date and proof of address dated within the last six months.

Units will be cashed in at the unit price applicable at the next available pricing date for the funds you have chosen to cancel units from. Note that our offices are closed on Irish bank holidays. Payment will normally reach your account within seven working days following receipt of all required documentation.

In the case of fund specific regular withdrawals, you will be advised if, at some future point, the amount remaining in a fund is likely to be insufficient to meet the next payment in full. You will be required to submit new instructions. Full details can be found in the relevant Key Features document. In the absence of new instructions, all withdrawals will cease when a fund is depleted.

We reserve the right to refuse to sell units if, when you take a regular withdrawal, there will be less than GBP 1,000/EUR 1,500/USD 1,500 in your fund.

At any time, you may request a partial withdrawal across all identical policies in the bond without penalty, provided that, where there are outstanding establishment charges, the value of units remaining in the bond is not less than 20% of all remaining investments. We'll only proceed when you tell us, otherwise the transaction will be delayed. If you make a partial withdrawal in excess of the cumulative allowance (see below) a chargeable gain will arise which may result in an income tax liability.

All references to personal taxation below are based on our understanding of UK law and HM Revenue & Customs practice as at March 2021. The future basis and rates of tax may vary. Although every effort has been made to ensure its accuracy, no responsibility can be taken for our interpretation. Please contact your financial adviser or applicable tax authority for advice on the taxation implications of owning the bond.

If you are a UK resident, there is no immediate liability to income tax if the amount withdrawn from any of the individual policies within your bond does not exceed the '5% allowance'. This allowance is calculated as 5% of the investment in the year it is made and 5% each year for the following 19 years. The 5% allowance is cumulative. If it is not used in one year it can be transferred to the next, and so on.

When your bond or any of your individual policies come to an end, there may be a liability to income tax. This is calculated where the value of the amount withdrawn exceeds the investment made into your individual policies/bond and also allows for any previous encashments and declared gains. This gain is treated as additional income of the policyholder(s) in the tax year in which the chargeable event occurs to determine the amount of any income tax payable. Top slice relief may be available to reduce or eliminate your liability to higher rate income tax if your income, without the gain, is below the higher rate income tax threshold. When completing your tax returns, any gain can be reduced proportionately based on the time you were resident outside the UK whilst the investment was in force.

Any gains in respect of bonds held under trust will be assessed against the creator of that trust (the settlor). If the settlor is not a resident in the UK or has died, the trustees will be liable for the tax on any gain they receive. If the trustees are non-UK resident, beneficiaries will be liable to the extent they benefit from the trust.

If you are a non-UK resident, please contact your financial adviser or applicable tax authority for advice on the taxation implications of owning the bond.
